Class A	$78	1.55%

How did the fund perform last year?

The Fund performed in line with its benchmark for the six-month period ending 5-31-2024. Our technology holdings, which represent approximately 18% of the portfolio, were the biggest positive contributors, led by Nvidia, Advanced Micro Devices, and Qualcomm. Big banks JPMorgan Chase and Bank of America also performed well, as did Western apparel retailer Boot Barn. As a group our other small caps underperformed, with staffing company BGSF and online automotive aftermarket parts provider CarParts.com both weighing on results. We have subsequently exited those two positions. Our fixed income sleeve of 15% of the Fund was positioned primarily in short-term Treasuries that performed as expected. Consumer Discretionary represents our largest sector allocation, and produced mixed results, as lower-end consumers were pressured by high prices and dialed back their spending. Paramount Global share price traded down as its controlling shareholder, Sheri Redstone's National Amusements, engaged in a quixotic sales process that titled at windmills and was unable to consummate a transaction.

How has the Fund performed over the last ten years?
